To Who it May Concern

It is with great pleasure that I get to write a letter of recommendation for Brady Wolf. My name is Casey Teson and I work for Alex Bazzell Basketball Academy. I have had the pleasure to work with Brady for the past two years.

Brady's hard work does not go unnoticed. He has played at the varsity basketball level for the past two seasons where he has led the team in scoring. Brady is very special when it comes to scoring the basketball. He has the ability to score at all three levels. His athleticism allows him to get in the lane and finish at the rim with contact. He also has the ability to elevate on his jump shot. This allows him to create space to get his mid-range shot off against those taller and longer defenders. Brady does a great job of spacing teams out due to his high percentage in 3-pointers. Brady is also a student of the game. His Basketball IQ is advanced and beyond most kids his age. He understands when he needs to space out or when he needs to cut. This allows him to play multiple positions, whether it's on the ball or off the ball.

When you think about building a college basketball team you need guys that exhibit good character on and off the court. Brady is the ideal guy that you would want to build a team around. When I explain things to Brady he listens to me, he doesn't just hear me. He wants to get better in every aspect of the game and is willing to do more than the average basketball player. I am honored to write this letter on behalf of Brady Wolf. Everything he has was earned, not given.
